Managers Notes:

Cardinals- The Cards scored early and the Wolfpack scored back to keep the game in doubt until the last three innings when the Cards kept scoring to secure the victory. Cards had lots of offense led by Todd and Don O great games and perfect days at the plate with 14 RBI's and solid defense. The whole team had at least one RBI. Pitchers from both teams dealt with control issues, probably evened out. Thanks to Nick for helping out and scoring 2 runs. Next week the mighty Warriors. Only two games left unless we can make up the two rained out games.

Mudcats The Mudcats and the Rovers both played exceptionally well defensively this week. Both teams executed impressive defensive plays, but the Mudcats, with the help of Sean, Brandon, Terry Pryor, Doug Johnson, and Mace McDonald, all hitting three-for-four at the plate, and Evans Kwok hitting two-for-three, managed to score two more runs than the Rovers. This resulted in a 14-12 victory for the Mudcats.

Outlaws- A close game throughout with the score tied in the 3rd, 4th, 7th and going into the bottom of the 9th. A team effort won the game with a batting average of .704 and some good defensive plays. Offensive highlights were John McCown having a perfect day at the plate (AGAIN!) and David Gerds hitting a double, triple and home run for 7 rbi's. A defensive highlight was Mike McCloud fielding a tough grounder at shortstop, tagging the runner going to 3rd and then throwing the ball to 2nd for a double play. Way to go Outlaws!

Rovers The Rovers were beaten by the Mudcats 14-12. Mark Narciso kept the Mudcat's offense 'stuck in the mud' with his brilliant pitching. Unfortunately, the Mudcat's Matt Alberti had his "how low can you go?" pitches working as well. Ha ha! The Rover's top hitters were: Mark Narciso going a perfect 4-4 with an RBI, Tony Camillo going 2-3 with an HR, a SAC and 3 RBIs, Dennis Romero going 3-4 with a HR and two 2B and 3 RBIs, Stephfawn Thompson going 3-4 and 2 runs, and Brian Wong going 3-4 with a triple.

Warriors- Warriors lost to the Mighty Outlaws on a walk off Sac Fly in the bottom of the 9th. The game was back and forth and was well played for all 9 innings. Tom Knab was perfect on the day with 6 hits (3 doubles) with 4 runs and 3 RBIs. Danny Bejarano set the table often and scored 6 runs in 6 at bats while also driving in 3. Mike Kim and Bob Bohannon each drove in 6 runs on 5 hits apiece. Levalea Faleafine was also perfect at the plate with 4 hits and a walk with a double and 2 RBIs. Gordon Smith also had a good day at the plate with 4 hits in 5 ABs and scoring 3 runs. Keep ya heads up Warriors! We lost a close one but we will be back!"

Wolfpack-
