

Split Earth in two:

If:

The most accurate way to see the world / planetary organisms with borderlines are either western or eastern driven, politically. This is a scenario: I prefer two choices, not 212. It will stabilize the world economy, most likely.

East can exist in the west, and opposite. This is related to the influence as a whole for the nation and whether they are being influenced or not. Split mind communities create many different realities. And with one law system, it will not be for everyone to accept. This document is written to create understanding around development and history.

Possible guidelines:

- China → pull out from Norwegian hydropower, it will prevent chaos for Germany
- USA -> In God we trust, thank you Trump.
- Russia -> Ruble is an eastern currency

Three examples regarding the possible future on Earth which should rely on individual national development at a higher rate than earlier. It will gain global security for every country, meaning - Time for collaboration is now.

We are facing a situation where the psychological power between power positions, or nations, creates chaos. Due to lobbyism, corruption, ignorance and stupidity (ego). The regulations and legislations set, are referred to as 10CQ.

If Norway would be a nation where copyrighted information can be used, Per Kaald & Inger Lise Dybvik must die of natural causes. This will triumph the 21 year sentence Norway has already gotten, starting from the year 2023. By this meaning every nation can use the copyrighted information, but not within Norwegian borders. Norway / Norwegians can also use information in other nations, but not within Norwegian borderlines. That is the sentence.

Note: The paragraph above is where iacte currently stands. Of course this is not possible in reality, and there will not be any consequences either way since much is already implemented already. FYI.

It seems like on Earth, that in this timeline you will be remembered as a great or incompetent leader of your nation.

So, we have all these kinds of currencies. The unstable currency-market is a result of fighting for the strongest one. Let's say that western countries rely on dollars and eastern countries rely on rubles or yuan. It would be easier to handle, predict, invest and tackle, in need. The world economy ( the growth) will thrive. Psychology comes into the picture; we all know what we are dealing with. Most of us need no more than two choices, if it's provided fairly.
