

Why you should consider not to globalize

Illustration: Looks like a movie, but not reality. Go f yourselves

As a result of the infamous sentence the Norwegian nation has gotten as a result of a country which does not face corruption and incompetent governmental officials, the Nordic nations are now under control. This is a symbiotic relation between the globe and the geo strategic area which is as important as Siberia. Now imagine that.

This is a direct result of proper and strict fulfillment, as leadership from a few world leaders, of a circus joke planet. This form of a more stabilized situation than what many of us have seen, or experienced, the last decades is also again a result of the EU principle changing, and great world leaders. The elderly in doubt are a dying race.

Example: Isn't it fascinating that you would rather 'follow'/trust a Somali retarded woman more than a president of a whole country, since you yourself have no idea of how the nation actually works because of history and systems

Question one: if you are not brainwashed (as many people refer to), why is it difficult to understand that power positions require much more than raising 6 bananas, grains of rice or a hijab for your children/future generations?

Question two: If you were to be a national leader, why would anyone let you be in charge of a budget defending the nation, and the entire world, when your focus is on another nation? Is this directly linked to underdeveloped nations?

Question three: Who wants to attack Somalia and control their behavior in their own nation?

Answer for question three: No one who is in their full senses.

Think of your own nation. The 'Elite' and the muslims and the jews, have many things in common. Misinterpretation and miscalculations only, but within those two there are factions of degrees.

It is guaranteed that your nation will be the ultimate loser if you focus more on what is happening outside your borderlines. Again (Somalia which is quite honest the worst of the worst), as mentioned the more complicated it gets the more bureaucracy, and the more corruption and of course the more of f stupidity you will see.

So, if you are interested in some form of consciousness you can decide yourself on how to view situations and comprehend these different systems we have on Earth. It will require knowledge, and IQ. And understanding.

If Norway has gotten a 21-year sentence and Somalia is a shit hole, it tells you to focus on your self
