

How to run a planet

- Earth is unique so this is not a template

Humans are underdeveloped, with quite a fake leadership behind the curtains, and wars occur probably every second somewhere on this planet. More and more people are getting dissatisfied, and politicians are a dying race. With such a situation on a planet where the human race either has no idea of what's going on, or those who know, 'allow' it to continue, It is time to highlight the subject, and enlighten people, as a result of miscalculation. It is inevitable.

By this meaning, there are some guidelines for every nation on this planet:

- Invest in thy self, infrastructure and people in local communities
- Stop supporting new legislations and regulative proportions between borderlines
- The people who does not belong to a nation, should be deported (Svalbard can be used)
- Stop immigration immediately
- Invest in travel commute services within as part of infrastructure at a higher level, as an example

It is actually very easy to create stabilization on this planet. And if there are any people who disagree and start creating chaos and disorder for another country, their national leaders are either highly incompetent or not fit for a position at this level of development. Meaning they are underdeveloped. Now, humans are humans, so if a politician takes a choice of sending this and so much needed war-used machinery, they will follow the established elite's way of doing things which is predictable for them. It is not predictable for most other beings living in this society.

So, it may seem that there is a certain group of people who have some form of interest in having 'control'. If this is correct, it is most likely a result of the unpredictable human being. And human beings are unpredictable as a result of the system. It is basically an evil spiral, because we are underdeveloped with a system consisting of lobbyism.

The subject of this matter is so complicated that less is more. The 'wanted' globalization will not happen, because the system can not change at this level of speed. Ironical, how f up you have been, taking choices for millions.

An example: It is much easier to regulate the people and have control over a situation, and also create prosperity, if your nation is mostly thinking about itself. With a focus on itself, and not tied to another part of the planet /nation.

Question: Why do you as a world leader accept that another nation will regulate both you in your job and your nation/country also, due to a regulation or restrictions set by others in a manner that does not benefit your peoples?

Buckminster Fuller: "You never change things by fighting the existing reality. To change something, build a new model that makes the existing model obsolete"

