The use of the conscious force over other human beings

This is strictly mathematical driven. Statistics and observations. Combined with the self centered part also called the ego. If you care you are worthy.

Make decisions for your population combined with your nearests. Culture equals a set driven mindset. To be a world leader in this timeline is seen as the most challenging thing you can ever do. We have information given, and information acknowledged (exponentially). This is due to 'globalization'. To understand power, you will not have it.
