We have seemed to build a world of different nations where interference is only of economic value. This is the reason for the frequently used expression “a f joke”.

Question: How does ‘the world’/planet/every nation, cooperate?

Answer: By economic needs, and only economic needs

Many people are becoming more and more aware of a “hidden” force that rules the planet. It can be called the Elite or the illuminati if you would like to refer to the top level as such names. This is strictly western driven ways of regulating people, nations and over-borderlines regulations. If you are a sucker, such as Norway, you basically do not have anything to contribute besides lies and words to the people you are supposed to lead and represent.

So, the Elite are also trying to control Europe and land borders as a result of interest because their financial needs are already fulfilled. This is what is called a social anthropologist. How humans behave in other words. A very interesting field of subject. Every move you make will contribute to statistics and valuation. At top level.

Those who were in charge, are no longer in charge. Iacte Ltd. has already made sure of that (in the west). Leaders in front are hereby in charge of what has been hidden/underlied for decades. Mark my words. And icate favours only quite a few, so you still have a chance do to what is the best for the people if you are not on the list, and not your ego, or the self, as we call it in the future of mentality. The future of mentality will come within 20 years.

By this meaning, it can be split in two: The East & The West (as mentioned many times earlier).

Question: Why is it that elections are rigged? And why do you believe that they are not rigged?

In the West we have the jewish society who runs basically most of all the economics and the media systems. In the East you will find a way different approach to how they operate for the people. It is basically called tradition without manipulation of the people they are protecting and looking over, but more of a command based situation.

For non-elite people: If you sincerely believe that the world functions exactly as you are being served by the information thru for example the media system, you are definitely brainwashed. Sorry, you are dysfunctional.

If any of these countries will have any trouble with the ‘Elite’, regarding their people - information will be released:

- United States
- Russia
- Norway
- China
- Sweden
