

Executive orders for peoples

There is an urge for change. Periode. Thee jewish settlement and their control over the MSM seem to misunderstand their position due their own belief system. Islam can clearly be involved, but their lack of knowledge regarding consciousness, way of thinking and mindsets towards outdated goals are not worth mentioning. Fix your own nation, before sending out so-called “troops”. There is a reason why your people have fled for decades. You have highly intelligent muslims explaining to the west how their way of thinking is operating and that is some of the best things you can witness in the 20s. Unfortunately, many of their younger generations seem to be not very well educated in how a religion should be implemented in an already very functional society. The European Union will most likely face severe consequences within three years. This is due to timeage of mixture with cultural differences.

Anyways, we also have some great leaders that do not want to force an outdated belief system upon you. They are basically way more developed due to an environmental factor:

Xi Jinping: Favours East. Unless it will gain profit for their history and culture.

Mr. Putin: Energy driven towards the western society. And he probably will win.

Mr. Trump: Focusing on his own nation, as a great example of leadership and companionship.

Muhammed bin Salman: Get your act together. With all that wealth, focus on your own nation.

Prime ministers: Nothing to write here due to incompetent people who have a ‘vote’ in your opinion.

Narendra Modi: Your sympathy should be reflected in a nation of 1,4 billion.

King Harald the V: please do something before you give away the throne.

Mr. Macron: Your story to the presidency is fascinating. Or at least it was.

Mr. Zelinsky: Surrender, for everyone's sake. (war is not a common subject)

Mr. Netanyahu: The yellow ribbon is worn by fellow loved ones. (war is not a common subject)

Note: No one of you will reign on Earth. No matter what the media will tell people (world wide), or how you think the collaborating NWO will be. Rarely do things turn out the way we believe. The NV is here, be brutal in feedback.

As a part of the global society development program, it is clear that every nation should focus on themselves. The globalisation that lies behind all of this instability is a force driven by the elite, to achieve a certain goal, and it has only given world chaos. There will be no questions or examples in this document due to incompetent leadership and not least financial management gone close to destruction. We live in the 20s, what a f joke all of you are if none of you are capable of creating peace or some form of a stabilized ground values for what your people value.

This document is meant to be as hard as you yourself treat your enemies during wars. Remember: we are going to be interplanetary. But this will never happen with such an old school thinking. That is why it is celebrated to have great world leaders who will do their best on behalf of their nation, and not a country who needs economic needs for war related issues. Globalization is almost certain to be impossible with an economic world wide system in use.

In either way you refer to yourself as religious, or want to relate to this as a direct religious document, it can be assured that it is not. But the belief system and how you are being manipulated by what you are being exposed to is something that we all are victims of and triggered by. Unless you search for accurate information. Critical thinking.

It is difficult for a human being (world leader) to accept that what you have is what you have. Unless you are great
