

ELECTROLYSIS CENTER

After Care Recommendations

- Avoid touching, scratching the treated area.
- It is normal for the treated area to be red and slightly swollen. Both of these conditions usually disappear within an hour or two, but can last longer.
- Keep treated area clean and dry. Do not rub while washing or drying your skin.
- Avoid the use of ointments or deodorants for at least 12 hours after treatment.
- Do not apply make-up to the treatment area for at least 24 hours. If you must use make-up, use only make-up that has not been cross contaminated to minimize the risk of infection or reaction.
- If work was done on the face, neck or hairline, put a new pillowcase on your pillow.
- If after treatment, a tiny formation of fluid resembling a whitehead is noted, do not squeeze. Apply antibacterial cream such as Neosporin, bacitracin or other similar product. This reaction is normal and the fluid will dry up.
- If pustules appear apply hydrogen peroxide or antibacterial cream such as Neosporin, bacitracin or other similar product.
- If swelling occurs, apply ice wrapped in plastic to the treated area.
- Apply aloe vera gel or product available here (Yi-zhibaume) for any burning or warm sensation.
- Avoid exposure to the sun or tanning beds for at least 48-72 hours. If you must be out in the sun, wear sun block of at least SPF 30 or higher. Ombra Creme can also be used as a sunblock.
- Wait 3-5 days before using hot tubs, saunas or pools.
