Childhood Cancer: Chances are.....

- Chances are 1 in 285 a child will be diagnosed with childhood cancer before age 20.
- Chances are 1 in 5 that child will be killed by childhood cancer within 5 years of diagnosis.
- Chances are 1 in 5 that the 5-year survivors will be killed by their cancer, a secondary cancer or long-term effects of the cure in years 6 – 30 post-diagnosis.
- Chances are 98 in 100 that survivors will face long-term effects from treatments.

Last year residents showed their support for Cookies for Kid's Cancer by placing a beautiful gold bow on their mailboxes!

Let's continue the tradition with even more gold bows displayed throughout the neighborhood this September!

The "GOLD BOW PATROL" will be available to deliver and tie your bow to your mailbox by the end of August! Thank you for being a good cookie! Questions?
