Turning Warm To Hot On Cue For Heatwave Number 3 + Very Warm To Hot For Many By Tuesday/Wednesday...

In addition to the coming days and another significant warming to hotting up period in development, it also looks very warm to very hot for many parts of the country by around Tuesday and Wednesday of next week (mid 30s or higher once again in the hottest spots + warm/hot elsewhere) from both the Global Forecast System (GFS) and the European Computer Model (ECM).

Additionally, this is just as our previous and last several consecutively dated updates and forecasts said they would for these exact days and dates in the following public updates when there were NO such indications from elsewhere or other weather pages and the main third-party weather apps (BBC/MO).

In fact, TV forecasters were claiming NO heat in sight for the near future quite publicly at the start of this week...
