PURPOSE

The Gullah Festival of South Carolina Inc., a nonprofit, tax-exempt organization of Beaufort was established in 1985 with its first festival being held in 1986 by natives of Beaufort to continue a four-day celebration of the historical significant Sea Island heritage. Its goal is to reclaim for future generations the beauty and mystery of the disappearing Gullah Culture, a mix of West African legacy and American experience, to help Arts in Education, and to foster a better understanding of, and appreciation for the culture. Highlights include consumer, educational, and historical workshops, a fine arts exhibit, demonstrations and a potpourri of music and food for everyone.

Our Farewell Dinner:

CST specially picked this location because it is 100% Gullah owned! The “Gullah Grub Restaurant”

Chef & Owner Mr. Bill Green. Chef Green has been featured on several programs including, Martha Stewart Living and Anthony Bourdain, No Reservations. Mr. Bill Green is nationally recognized as one of the few purveyors of authentic Gullah foods.
