

Dawns symptoms

Let's now compare some symptoms that can be experienced while this soul or spirit energy rises inside of us naturally or if it is unregulated. If everything is balanced and proceeds naturally, some signs are just transient, punctual and never come back to disturb like in the case of a healing crisis. If the awakening is unprepared, traumatic or irregular, that can greatly impair the capacity of a person to function at the accelerated and exhausting pace the society is demanding today, especially when no one understand around us, not even the doctors or the priests.

Soul energy symptoms:	Spirit energy symptoms:
initial coccyx pain of unknown and non-traumatic origin	unexplained heat in the perineum between the vagina and rectum or between the scrotum and rectum
lumbo-sacral pain	hemorrhoids
as it rises, a palpable heat spot somewhere along the spine which can cause localized health problems, inflammation to nerve roots and disc problems	as it rises, a palpable heat spot somewhere along the spine which can cause localized health problems, inflammation to nerve roots and disc problems

In case of inner combustion burning emergency, one should stop all spiritual practices except contemplation or musical ones. We should also stop absorbing anything hot or causing inflammation like hot beverages or soups, sugar, honey, ginger, chili, pepper and acidic food for a while. Grounding barefoot in nature, on a wooden or stone floor can help a lot as well as ingestion of clay following naturopathic dosage recommendations.

While the two dawns can cause symptoms like the conditions above, all symptoms are not necessarily caused by a dawn. A proper medical evaluation is still required to rule out a physical underlying cause. Nonetheless, I clearly state that most non-congenital and non-traumatic chronic medical conditions are caused by deregulations of the body's electro-magnetic normal balance.

In case of psychologic or psychiatric impairment, medication can help stabilize the emergency situation, as it blocks the energy pillar gates. It will rarely cure permanently the electro-magnetic deregulation underneath which has to be addressed with electro-magnetic spiritual practices. I here reiterate my statement: most non-congenital and non-traumatic psychologic or psychotic conditions are caused by deregulations of the body's electro-magnetic normal balance.

I here add that access to other dimensions is not a disease unless it is not controlled and causing dysfunction in regular life. Some people have this access since a young age and have an absolutely normal life.

Possessions are due, in my opinion, to a lack of faith, a lack of conscious electro-magnetic spiritual lifestyle or a lack of will power, in any order or together. Help can be given but the lifestyle of the whole family must be changed and adapted to the situation. They have premonitory signs increasing in severity slowly but surely and rarely happen suddenly except in case of psychedelic drug use, coma, walk-in, trauma or NDE. During the spiritual process one eventually faces it squarely in the dark night of the soul and the third bardo between life cycles. If faced prematurely it can be overwhelming if unwavering faith, a spiritual lifestyle, or strong will power have not been established yet.
