

Andrea Wilko

Andrea Wilko is the Chief Economist in the Utah Office of the Legislative Fiscal Analyst. Dr. Wilko specializes in state revenue forecasting, economic development, and tax analysis. She has taught at Brigham Young University. She received her Ph.D. with an emphasis in Economic Development from the University of Utah. Her research has been published in the Public Administration Review and various state publications. She is involved with the Utah Revenue Assumptions Committee, the Utah Common Data Committee, and staffs the Appropriations Subcommittee for Business, Economic Development and Labor. She has previously served on the Executive Committee for the National Conference of State Legislatures.