

Douglas F. Prawitt represents the AAA on the COSO Board. He is the LeRay McAllister/Deloitte Foundation Distinguished Professor of Accountancy at Brigham Young University, where he teaches courses on financial statement auditing and professional judgment. Doug's widely recognized research and writing has been published in the premier academic journals and in the leading accounting practitioner journals in his field. He is a coauthor of several books, including two leading financial statement auditing textbooks and a book on the SEC's role in corporate governance. He previously served on COSO task forces relating to internal control in smaller public companies and enterprise risk management. More recently, he served as a member of the AICPA Auditing Standards Board. Doug has served as an expert witness and has consulted extensively with a variety of accounting firms and other enterprises, large and small.