

Sgt. Weber

Sgt. Weber has been an officer for 16 years 14 of those he has spent on the DPS SERT team, a tactical team that responds around the state to major incidents. The last 5 years he has been the team leader of that team. Weber is the primary instructor for new police officers on the topic of active shooters and has taught thousands of citizens classes on the topic of active shooters. Sgt. Weber also works with the Department of Public Safety Aviation division flying around the state assisting with search and rescue and police missions. Hobbies include fitness and aviation, aka trying not to crash small planes.