

Ann Ebberts
Chief Executive Officer for AGA National

Ann Ebberts is in her 7th year as the Chief Executive Officer for AGA and leads the national office operations that provide services to its 85+ chapters across the country. The AGA National office also develops and delivers educational events, manages the CGFM certification program, conducts and publishes research, and promotes accountability and transparency initiatives and intergovernmental cooperation for accountability professionals at all government levels.

Prior to AGA, Ann spent 30+ years providing management consulting services to the federal government, in financial management, process improvement, program evaluation and shared services. She has a B.S in marketing management from Virginia Tech, M.S. in systems management from the University of Denver and is a certified Project Management Professional. Ann joined AGA as a member in 1999.
