

BIO:

Sarah Young is the Director of Strategic Initiatives with the Utah State Board of Education working to bring next generation learning to Utah's public schools. Her work has included the state's Digital Teaching and Learning initiative and development of Utah's Portrait of a Graduate. Young has ensured these initiatives are centered in creating learning environments that foster 21st century skills for Utah's students. Young's passion for personalized learning has fostered her active engagement in several other roles working with: K-12 Computer Science for All, Competency Based Learning, and K-12 CARES Funding Coordination.