project.

This is a project of empowerment. Of self-love, of self-esteem and self-worth. This project will empower women from every angle. From the speakers getting to tell their stories in a safe, shame free environment, to the woman who are finally hearing that they aren't alone.

And if that wasn't enough, we are lifting each other up by tapping into each other's audiences, sharing the love in a way that only happens with events like this. The opportunity for you to share your story and share your products and services to a larger audience.

goals.

Our goal is simple. It's freedom.

Freedom from self-loathing.
Freedom from the rules and false beliefs thrust upon us from birth.
It's freedom to show up and be who we really are and it's freedom to be who you are, in your truth, and shine as bright as you can.

a special note from our founder

We would personally like to thank you for joining our movement.

If you have found us, it must be because your work is in alignment with our goals and values.

We would like to mention a few things to be aware of before you apply to work with us.

This community was created as a safe space for women around the world.

We would like to bring to your attention something that we feel can only be addressed in the most direct manner. Although we want you to promote your products and services, in no way will any recruitment be tolerated. This includes any MLM, religious ideology or organizations, mission-based organizations such as nonprofits, political campaign groups, unions, and advocacy groups down to the smallest local schools and committees.

Each session is monitored live and any violation of this and your session will be stopped and you will not be allowed to participate in a SheisMe event. There are plenty of other platforms where you can do this kind of work but SheisMe is not the place.

You can believe, donate, pledge or pray to anything you like; you just may not come here and convince others to do the same.

In appreciation,

Lisa Jo

About Me.

I'm Lisa Jimenez, a woman driven by transformation, empowerment, and the pursuit of joy, peace, and freedom. With nearly 40 years in corporate product management and event production, my true calling is creating spaces where women thrive.

Witnessing the stress and burnout of corporate systems fueled my passion for change. I saw the strength and potential in women and knew heart-centered leadership was essential. That's why I developed programs to ignite the soul, heal the past, and empower women to lead and succeed without compromise.

My story is one of resilience and transformation. Growing up amidst addiction and chaos, I unknowingly repeated the cycle in an abusive relationship. Leaving with my two children was the hardest yet most defining moment of my life—a step toward healing, self-discovery, and empowerment.

Surviving attempted murder and breaking the cycle of abuse taught me the strength within me. As a mother, I vowed to build a life of freedom for my children. Volunteering at a women's shelter inspired me to create something bigger—a sanctuary where women could heal, grow, and reclaim their power.

That vision became ShelsMe Global. What began as a conference has grown into a global movement of heart-centered leadership, empowering women worldwide to rise, lead, and thrive.

Together, we rise. Together, we lead.
