

JOE TIME TRUCKER - And The Fate Of The Annunaki

Our hero is just an average Joe who tinkers with time. When Joe is dumped by another girlfriend, for being not being successful enough to marry.

He decides to take a risk on his future. He sees an advertisement on the sale of unclaimed cargo containers warehouse to be torn down by the city, he hocks his engagement ring and buys a container that is over a hundred years old.

When it explodes in the back of his pickup truck,... Joe learns it contained the lost time machine of H.G. Wells. which has now merged with his red Ford 150 Pickup and...

The "Time Truck" is born.

Joe suddenly finds himself on a new road as the world reshapes itself around him. Knobs, levers, fiery glass spheres appear around his truck. A strange rear view mirror unfolds from the car ceiling right in front of him. A mirror with the talking head of H.G. Wells, an avatar created in the future on his own adventures. H.G. gains control of the time truck. . .

and takes Joe to the otherworld of Haven, where the immortal Annunaki dwell. The Sumerian gods of old.

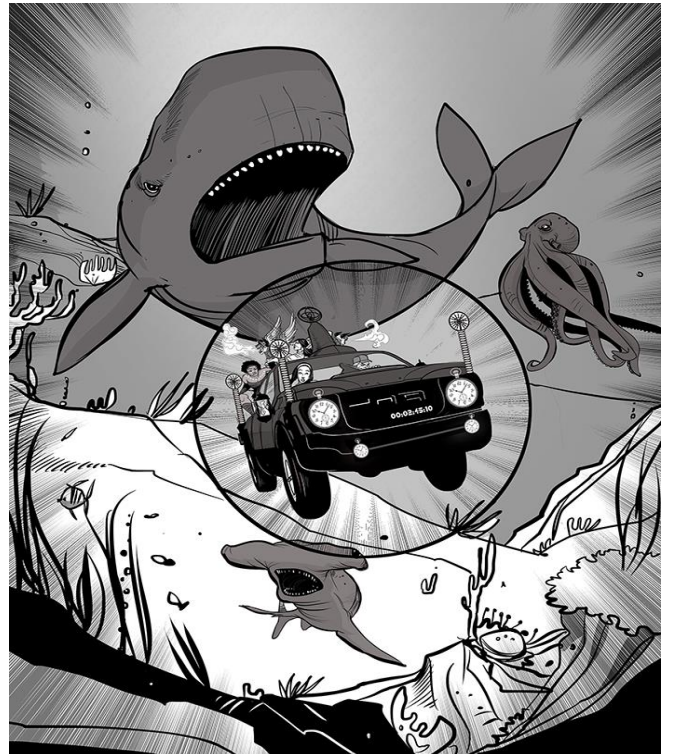

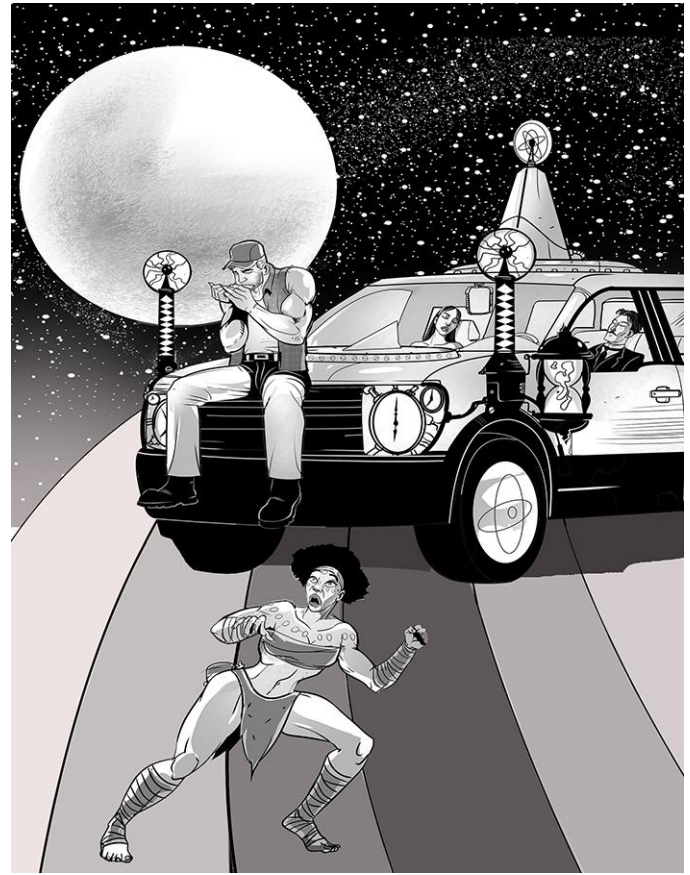

who serve the creator and inform Joe that he is the reincarnation of the original - Good Samaritan. The Annunaki are immortal that cannot travel thru time. Now Joe, has been chosen to be - The First Traveler. Tesla and HG Wells were time travelers who only moved thru time not able to move locations. The combination of his truck and their time machine has created the Time Road.

Joe is no superhero, his super power is his heart and his sense of right and wrong. Together with the friends he gains along the way and his American Ninja Warrior skills they circumvent temples, and battle evil monsters past, present, and future,

So, grab a beer and follow this new blue-collar hero on all his adventures, - “and get the truck out of here!”

Robert W Cabell – rwcabell@aol.com 212-316-0885