

I was a founding staff writer, on the board of directors, and served as the Entertainment Editor and head theatrical critic for the New York entertainment magazine "SHOUT" for it's frst four years and forty plus issues. Now, after years have passed and moving from East Coast to West Coast, I have only retained a handful of copies, here are a few samples of my work.

