An interview with Mr. Sanders

By Megan VanSickle

I recently got a chance to interview Mr. Sanders, Duncan High Schools newly employed woods teacher. We asked him a few questions and these were his responses.

How do you enjoy being a teacher at Duncan High?

"I like teaching young adults and I enjoy the quiet solitude up here on the hill where nobody bothers me. The world is changing so fast that we need to learn to teach ourselves and become lifelong students."

Would you teach any other subject if given the chance?

"We need people who can do more than read and write."

Mr. Sanders would not teach a different subject because he believes too many kids are taught the standards of education. More students need to branch off and explore a new subject.

What is your favorite color?

"Confederate grey." I believe that he is just trying to get on the good side of Duncan Schools with this answer, just kidding.

What is your favorite animal?

"Anything that is stuffed."

What was your dream job when you were a kid?

"Raising pigs." Maybe the Ag class will raise a few pigs and Mr. Sanders can visit every now and again. After all, they are neighbors!

Mr. Sanders and I shared a few laughs and we got to know him quite well. If you get the chance, go visit him up in the woods classroom on the hill and say Hi!
