

Hi, Friends!

Good morning

Another week has gone by and another week where we are more than thankful for all the support we continue to get from each and everyone of you guys. Our Newsletter is growing and that's amazing. We have a great deal to unpack today so let's get into it.

Business Update

We have a giveaway that we will talk about as well as a new business partner that we brought on. I love coffee and I love this community. As we get into the business aspect of the company it is better to reach out for help instead of trying to wear every hat. So we have invited a friend of mine to join our team and help push/grow this company to the next level. We have brought on AJ PULLING. AJ will be our companies VP and helping us grow and learn. (I am not a title person but if we had to label it, that's what it would be)

AJ has been instrumental in helping us get a bunch of things in order and to help us implement some strategies. The amount of pressure AJ takes off of our plate is worth its weight in gold.

MMA WORLD

We make coffee for everyone and we like to do our best to give back to all different communities. We are an all inclusive community. We are bringing in a Cleveland local MMA fighter to sponsor and help grow our community. We would love it if our community can show him some love too.

Eric Pozun is a really good friend of ours and one hell of a fighter. He is an even better person. One of the nicest, most genuine people you will meet. Friendly, outgoing and all around fucking awesome. Just don't get in the cage with him, believe me.

Eric, like myself, is a big Harry Potter nerd and also a member of House HufflePuff as well as a Marvel geek. 26 years young and when he isn't fighting he works as a Dedicated Beer Account Manager. The sky is the limit for Eric and we are both excited and grateful to have him on our team as well as our friend.

Eric has a fight coming up on 05/22/21 against a very game opponent in Darren Williams. If you want to show Eric some love hit him up on instagram or Facebook.
