

"Teacher oh teacher, I can't fail this class

or my Mom will certainly punish my ass!

I know I haven't done homework or even STUDIED it's true but PLEASE teacher isn't there ANYTHING that you can do?"

When I FIRST
began teaching,
I had a young
man like you,

who said
EXACTLY the same thing
to that YOUNG
teacher too!

A woman with dark hair and bangs is sitting on a wooden bench in a sunroom. She is wearing a bright red long-sleeved cardigan over a black mesh top and a black and white houndstooth skirt. She is smiling and looking down at an open book she is holding. The room has a large green chalkboard in the background with the word 'Biology' written on it. To the left is a potted plant in a white and blue ceramic pot. To the right is a white door with glass panes and a red vase with orange scissors. The floor is made of brown tiles.

And I said
"A passing
grade in MY class is something
you EARN,

so I'm I'M going to TEACH
you, and
YOU'RE going to learn!"

"And I'll make sure you learn
WELL, so wipe
off that
FROWN,

A woman with dark hair and bangs is sitting on a wooden bench in a sunroom, smiling as she reads a book with yellow and purple pages. She is wearing a bright red long-sleeved cardigan over a black mesh top and a black and white houndstooth skirt. To her left is a large green chalkboard on a wooden stand with the word 'Biology' written on it in cursive. A potted plant sits on a decorative ceramic stand next to the chalkboard. Behind her are red curtains. To her right is a white-framed glass door leading outside. In the foreground, a wooden table is partially visible. On the right side of the image, there is a red vase with orange scissors leaning against a white brick wall.
