

STOECKER FARMS

Four generations of farming

from

Our family to yours...

Have you considered a CSA? CSA stands for Community Supported Agriculture. It is an opportunity for you to purchase fresh food directly from a local farm. You purchase a "share" of the farm's produce prior to the growing season. In turn, you, as the shareholder, receive weekly distributions of produce as the season progresses.

COMMUNITY SUPPORTED AGRICULTURE

Stoecker Farms offers 20 weeks of locally and naturally grown produce at a share price that fits your family.

Half share- $15 worth per week for $325

How Does It Work?

Each week you will receive an email listing our availability for the week. You will also receive weekly recipes based on the peak fruits and veggies for the time frame. Several weeks, particularly peak summer weeks you will be given a choice between different items to fill your veggie bag with what you would like. Typically a half share bag will have 5-7 items and a full share bag will have 8-10 items. Some weeks may also feature bonus items for example a pumpkin in the fall in addition to your share.

If you would like to have something not featured on the list but would like us to grow, please contact us.

About Stoecker Farms...

Stoecker Farms is a 4th generation family farm with operations in White Hall, Maryland. We are one of the founding members of the Baltimore City Farmers Market. At Stoecker Farms, we follow natural practices, integrated pest and crop rotation management. We participate in Maryland Department of Agriculture and University of Maryland training classes and programs for Fruit and Vegetable Producers.

Charles Stoecker has completed the GAPS (Good Agricultural Practices for the Production and Handling of Fresh Produce) Training and Good Cantaloupe Handling training conducted by the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Services.
