Hadiatu Dumbuya is a powerhouse first generation African inspiration, with a dynamic journey that spans sports, business, and personal growth. As an international speaker, she has captivated audiences around the globe, drawing on her experiences working with the NFL and the Indianapolis Colts. A Division 1 and semi-pro soccer athlete, Hadiatu's sports career is complemented by her time as a bodybuilder and recognition as a Hall of Fame athlete.

Beyond sports, Hadiatu is a successful entrepreneur who runs a marketing company, an Airbnb business, and a global travel enterprise, where she's built an international organization of thousands of people. She's also a side hustle coach, dedicated to helping others achieve financial freedom. Her 30-country travel record, coupled with her selfless act of kidney donation, showcases her deep love for life, family, and adventure.

Hadiatu Dumbuya brings a unique blend of grit, empathy, and entrepreneurial spirit to every stage, ready to motivate and empower audiences to dream big and take action.
