

Neil, Shoot Cut Deliver's CEO, started out as an apprentice in the video editing field over 17 years ago, working with production companies to learn how to professionally edit and produce great looking videos. Neil became certified with all the top educational providers, including an FAA drone certification, showing skills up and above all others. He was nominated for an Emmy for his work with Carlos Amezcua on a Local ABC special "The Station Fire". Neil also received a Best-Cinematography Award for the documentary Aspire to the Sky: the Wilshire Grand Story.

Sabine specializes in documentary/nonfiction writing, casting, directing, and producing. She has worked in the nonfiction field, both independent and commercial, for the past 15 years. Aside from writing, casting, and directing Shoot Cut Deliver videos, she recently co-wrote and co-produced the award-winning documentary Aspire to the Sky: the Wilshire Grand Story (Amazon Prime), about designing and engineering the tallest highrise in DTLA.

Gary is an award-winning cinematographer who has worked for many years as the DP and camera operator for the History Channel's Top Gear. A production cinematographer and experienced camera operator, Gary is also responsible for lighting design and audio recording on set and on location.
