BEST OF FESTIVAL | Yorkton Film Festival Presented to the most outstanding production of the 2021 Yorkton Film Festival

The original award given out by the Yorkton Film Council was a people's choice certificate of merit voted on by the audience. In 1956, one of the first adjudicators, Frank Moriss of the Winnipeg Free Press, suggested that Yorkton should have a grand prize. The wheat fields surrounding Yorkton inspired the idea for the "Golden Sheaf Awards". A Winnipeg company produced the first award, made of metal, looked like a bouquet of wheat. In 1970 the current bronze award was designed by Jim Trinder of Yorkton. The Golden Sheaf is a symbol of the Yorkton Film Festival and excellence in Canadian short film. In 2020, the YFF announced that for the first time the award statues are being produced in Saskatchewan, at the Julienne Atelier Foundry in Pense. Our thanks to both Phillip Tremblay for producing a fabulous sculpture that honours the tradition and distinction of the Golden Sheaf Awards.
