FALL TRAVEL 2026

Where Fall Takes You
ANATOMIE

Made for the Way You Move

Welcome to the season ahead. At Anatomie, we believe your clothes should keep up with your life, across borders, through changing weather, and into whatever the calendar throws at you. Every piece in the Fall 2026 collection is built to travel: wrinkle-resistant, easy to wear for hours, and finished with the quiet European polish that has always set us apart. From soft knits and tailored trousers to outerwear that layers over everything, this is a wardrobe for women who refuse to choose between looking put-together and feeling free.

It Still Starts With What You Pack

Anatomie began in Miami with Kate and Shawn Boyer and one refusal: never trade comfort for style, or style for comfort. Two decades on, we still cut travel clothing for safaris, cultural touring, and long-haul city weekends. The collection grows every season, but the starting point never changes. It still comes down to what makes the bag.

Head to Toe, All Black

Black is the traveler's shortcut. It hides a long day, sharpens for evening, and pairs with everything already in the bag. This season the jackets and trousers go head to toe in it, cut in fabrics that hold their line from morning to well past dark.

Every Piece Earns the Next

Every jacket, top, and trouser is designed to answer to the others. Shared tones, matched fabrics, and a consistent line mean one new arrival multiplies across the pieces you already own. You are not buying an outfit. You are extending a wardrobe that keeps paying off.

Cozy, Newer and Warmer Than Ever

A double-brushed Italian fleece lining hides inside a sleek stretch shell, so the softest thing you pack is also the most put-together. This is the line our customers keep coming back for, and this season it is lighter, warmer, and ready for wherever the cold finds you.

Sweater-Soft, Travel-Ready New Essentials

The new essentials blur the line between your softest knit and your sharpest tailoring. The Sweater Kenya Knit Safari Jacket brings sweater-soft sleeves to our most iconic silhouette, while the Ponte-cut Tressa Duo and Mita move like loungewear and read like a suit.

Pieces that carry a long travel day and never look like it.

The Blazer That Packs Like a Sweater

The Tressa Duo is the rare travel blazer you can roll into a carry-on and pull out ready to wear.

A removable hood takes it from a meeting to a weekend, the Ponte knit never creases, and the tailored line looks right over a dress or with your favorite trousers.

One layer, dressed a dozen ways.

Built to Last. Guaranteed for Life.

Because we use the highest quality fabrics and craftsmanship, we stand behind our Travel Essentials with a Lifetime Guarantee.

Look closer and the details earn their keep: a cinchable toggle waist, secure side zip pockets, and ultra-soft travel ponte that drapes like something far more precious. Few pieces this comfortable have ever looked this considered.
