

AEONrv at Emerging Tech Venture Summit

AEONrv selected as one of only 200 companies worldwide to present at premier tech industry event highlighting top disruptive emerging startups.

Reno, Nevada, May 10, 2023 – AEONrv, manufacturer of the first true all-season, electric cabin, off-road capable, high-tech and modern recreational vehicle, today announced they have been selected as one of only 200 companies worldwide to present at the Emerging Tech Venture Summit in San Jose, CA.

The Emerging Tech Venture Summit, presented by youngStartup Ventures, is a premier tech industry event that will bring together disruptive emerging startups with 150+ venture capitalists, corporate and private investors, and strategic partners representing over $250B under management. It offers AEONrv a unique opportunity to share its inspiring vision and connect with the broader tech community.

“We’re delighted to be recognized by youngStartup Ventures as a significant startup to watch,” said Jim Ritchie, CEO of AEONrv. “During the event, we will share more about our mission to disrupt how recreational vehicles are designed, built, delivered, and supported using the latest advancements in modern technology and sustainability.”

The advanced capabilities delivered by AEONrv—including the ability to go off-road and live off-grid anywhere, any time of the year for up to one week—are incredibly compelling and timely given the significant rise in RV living, adventuring, and remote working. Recent data shows that 36% of US leisure travelers (65M) plan to go RVing in the next 12 months with 54% of all RVers active remote workers and 69% of Millennial RVers (nearly 40% of total RVers) living in RVs 6+ months per year.

Customer feedback has been highly positive and is reflective of how AEONrv is meeting the unique needs of today’s more tech-savvy RVer.

“It’s an amazing adventure rig for whatever activities you choose. Very well built and insulated. We’ve dry camped at -15F with no issues. Whatever passion is driving you to choose an AEONrv, you will be amazed at the ways it can help you reach your goals—in comfort!” - DH

“Since launching AEONrv in October, 2021, we’ve gained significant traction and are now sold out for nearly 2 years,” said Jim Ritchie. “Additionally, we are building a highly unique Hardware/Software Data Platform that will enable us to drive significant additional revenue streams in the future. That is something no one else in the industry is doing.”
