

The Steeple Bell— June 2022

Franklin First United Methodist Church

“Under the Green Steeple”

“Give, and it will be given to you. A good portion – packed down, firmly shaken, and overflowing – will fall into your lap. The portion you give will determine the portion you receive in return.” Luke 6:38.

June is wedding month. Were you married in June? I was, 47 years ago this year. Any couple on their wedding day knows only the tip of the iceberg when it comes to loving deeply. Learning to love well is a life-long process. Every relationship has hills and valleys.

Psychotherapist Jonathan Robinson wrote a book entitled, “Communication Miracles for Couples.” The subtitle reads, “Easy and Effective Ways to Create More Love and Less Conflict.” Which of us would not like to reach that goal?

Dr. Robinson writes about three “As” of conveying love, filling our “self-esteem bank accounts.”

◆ Acknowledgment: when people are experiencing low self-esteem, they need to have their version of things acknowledged before they can hear what you have to say. Acknowledging their view of things is not the same as agreeing with them – or suggesting that they’re right and you’re wrong. It simply means you validate their personal experience. You accept that what they say is the truth as they see it. Acknowledgment is being willing to agree that your partner really is having the experience they say they are having. The first thing you should do when things get a bit heated on your mate’s side is to acknowledge their experience, even if you think it’s crazy. Acknowledgment builds trust. Most people immediately try to “fix” their partner. People need plenty of empathy and understanding before they are receptive to solutions.

1. It sounds like (or it seems) you...paraphrase in a sentence or two what your partner’s experience seems to be.
2. That must feel...guess as to how such an experience must feel.
3. I’m sorry you feel...guess as to what they’re feeling.

◆ Appreciation: the art of telling your partner what you like about him or her. Use appreciation frequently, and make your observations very specific, precise, and graphic. Even if your words sound a bit corny, go ahead and say them. Encouragement is a very powerful communication skill.

“You are such a thoughtful person. You offered to help that man in the wheelchair get into the elevator so graciously. You’re always doing little things like that for me, and it makes me feel cherished.”

◆ Acceptance: means that you love your partner just as he or she is, warts and all. Another term for acceptance is “unconditional love.” Acceptance may require a shift in your attitude. One way to help you accept your partner unconditionally is to learn to “tune into” the positive intention he or she has at any given moment. Accepting your partner does not mean that you never get annoyed. It means that you choose love despite an occasional display of difficult behavior. It means that you continually anticipate that the other person is seeking the best from the relationship as well.

Dr. Robinson’s book is a treasure-trove of suggestions to improve your relationship with your spouse, but it works well with others in your life too.

We can all brush up on our relationship skills.

Pastor Laura

Pentecost

The sanctuary on Pentecost Sunday is filled with the color red, the liturgical hue symbolizing the work of the Holy Spirit. Pentecost is celebrated on the fiftieth and last day of the Easter Season, when the Church received the gift of the Holy Spirit. The story is told in Acts 2.

With the sound of a fierce wind and tongues of fire above the disciples' heads, these men were empowered to speak in the languages of their audience the message of the Gospel of Christ. Peter preached a powerful sermon and 3,000 were baptized into the faith that day – the start of the Church of Jesus Christ.

The Holy Spirit indwells believers – empowering us to follow God's direction, challenging us when we've strayed, helping us pray when we don't know how, comforting us, and enabling us to do more individually and collectively than we could ever do on our own strength. God's promise of the Divine Helper wasn't just for the disciples in Jesus' time, but for us as well. Come, Holy Spirit!

Vacation Bible School—July 12, 13, & 14

Save the date for a great time for kids ages 4 through incoming 6th graders. "Food Truck Party" is our theme this year, and we are encouraging kids from the community to come.

(Although the 4 & 5 year old class will be open to Franklin First kids only.)

We will meet from 6:00 till 8:00 these three evenings.

Our closing program will be Sunday, July 17.

Our lessons are based on the prayer: "God is great. God is good. Let us thank God for our food. By God's hands we all are fed. Give us Lord our daily bread." Our scriptures will include stories about Moses and the Hebrew people receiving manna and quail from God, Daniel and his friends choosing to eat God's healthy food, and Jesus' feeding of the 5,000. Kids must pre-register online or through the office.

Children's Summer Programming

Summer months are times of traveling and special commitments. We are adjusting our children's program to accommodate summer schedules. From June 5 through August 7, there will be no Children's Church. A number of our summer worship services will include special involvement for our kids, and there will be age-appropriate activity bags available for kids in the worship service. The nursery will continue throughout the summer, and the top nursery age will be expanded to include six-year-olds who wish to attend. Thanks to everyone who volunteers to keep our children's ministry vibrant.

Father's Day Thanks

Did you know that there are 1.5 billion fathers worldwide, and 66.3 million of those live in the United States? In 1972, Father's Day became an official US holiday, and a necktie is the most popular gift item for dad. A rose is the official flower, and if your father is living – you wear a red one. If deceased, white is appropriate.

The Bible tells us that fathers have important roles in the family. "Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord." Ephesians 6:4. The U.S. Census Bureau shares some enlightening statistics as well. Children raised with a father figure in the home...

- ◆ Are four times less likely to live in poverty
- ◆ Are two times less likely to drop out of high school
- ◆ Are seven times less likely to become pregnant before the age of 18
- ◆ Are less likely to commit crime and be sentenced to prison

Dads, you are an important influence in your family. We're praying for you.

Music Program Thanks!

A special thank you to the Choir, Women's Ensemble and to Tami and the Bell Choir for your dedication through out the year to your church. Also thank you Megan ,what would we do without you, and Trisha for accompanying us each Sunday! You make a difference each Sunday as you bring the word of God through your music to the congregation. "Psalm 105:2 Sing to him, sing praise to him; tell of all his wonderful acts." We are blessed at Franklin First to have so many gifted musicians. Thank you!

Also, thank you Choir for the beautiful flowers and gift card!

Blessings,
Monica

Happy Birthday John Wesley!

Born June 28, 1703, John Wesley was the founder of the Revival Movement within the Church of England known as Methodism. He was an Anglican priest who is especially known for his teachings of God's Grace – prevenient, justifying, and sanctifying. As believers employ the Means of Grace (attending corporate worship, reading the Bible, praying, partaking of the sacraments, fellowshiping with other Christians) they are transformed into the likeness of Christ (sanctification). John espoused inward holiness as a way of life.

His parents were Rev. Samuel and Susanna Wesley, and he was their fifteenth of nineteen children. His parents, and especially Susanna, were very diligent about their children's spiritual training. John and his brother Charles went on to pastor in both England and the British colonies across the Atlantic. His unique ministry style included preaching outdoors and adapting local customs for religious use. For example, Charles wrote more than 7,000 hymns – often employing popular bar tunes to engage their listeners in the message of the Gospel.

The United Methodist Church is one denomination that traces its origins to the work of John Wesley. We have many sister denominations who claim the same lineage. God chose to use the ministry of this ordinary individual to bring God's message to the New World and to generations of believers across the world.

A Legacy Of A Kingdom-Building Life

God used three major events to provide Howard Longfellow a kingdom-building life: a shorter train ride, a chance encounter and a love for his adopted hometown.

Longfellow grew up in Baltimore, where he attended Lovely Lane United Methodist Church. Toward the end of his senior year in high school, his father encouraged him to apply to an engineering school in the Midwest. At 16, Longfellow researched train schedules to cities in the Midwest and decided to attend The Ohio State University because the ride to Columbus was the shortest on the schedule. He applied and was accepted.

After graduating from OSU, Longfellow's first engineering job was with the Western Electric Company in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. On the Sunday before his first day on the job, Longfellow decided to take a train ride to explore the city. The ride led him to Centenary United Methodist Church in time for worship. That day he met his wife of 67 years, Jane. The couple married, started a family and rooted themselves in Winston-Salem.

Later, Longfellow was offered a position with Bell Labs in Columbus, Ohio. He loved Columbus and accepted this opportunity to return to his adopted hometown. The family met the Rev. Charles Kirsch, the pastor of Reynoldsburg United Methodist Church, and began attending the church. Later, they decided to make Worthington UMC their church home.

As a member of Worthington UMC for nearly 60 years, Howard and Jane have lived a kingdom-building life by serving in leadership roles on various committees. The couple is also responsible for the renovation of the church lounge, where they spent a lot of time.

The Longfellows' commitment led them to a planned gift that benefits Worthington UMC. Howard and Jane invested in Charitable Gift Annuities through the former West Ohio Conference Council on Development, now the United Methodist Foundation of West Ohio. The decision provided significant additional income for the couple; allowing them to "have a life, versus just living paycheck to paycheck," Howard said. This decision will also honor their life of service through a gift to Worthington UMC.

Franklin First Team Updates

Missions:

Snack packs are finished for this year. Many volunteer hours went in to purchasing, filling bags counting and loading bags into the plastic bins. 125 bags were filled every week. These volunteers are worth their weight in gold! Theresa has designed several flyers and cards that were included in the snack pack bags. The snack pack crew delivered Teacher supply bags and staff appreciation bags to the staff at Anthony Wayne on May 3rd. We have also partnered with a group from Southwest Church in Springboro that provides Kindness bags to Pennyroyal, Gerke, Schenk and Hunter elementary schools. We have learned what they pack in their bags, how they finance the mission and how they deliver their bags. We will be discussing this at our next Missions meeting on June 1st at 6:30, to evaluate if we want to make any changes in our routine. Anyone who is interested is welcome to attend the meeting.

The mission's team has also partnered with Caring Partners which is a Worldwide Medical ministry group. We received a carload of personal hygiene items last fall that we delivered to Franklin High school. In March we receive another group of items with an estimated value of $1785.00, these items were offered to the congregation, local businesses, and the schools. The remainder of the items were delivered to the Franklin Fire Department and the Franklin Police Department.

The Noisy bucket for Heifer International collected $646.05. The children decided they wanted to purchase 1 Alpaca ($150.00), 1 Goat ($120.00), 1 Sheep ($120.00), 1 Pig ($120.00), Garden seeds ($60.00), 1 Flock of chicks ($20.00) and 1 share of a Heifer ($50.00).

We are hoping to participate in National Night out on August 2nd.

We will start to collect school supplies in June in preparation for Backpack Sunday on August 7th.

Christian Education:

We met April 25 and have discussed the following:

Children's Programming:

We have decided that we will continue with the way things are currently through the month of May related to nursery and Children's Church. We continue to have difficulty getting volunteers for these programs.

Therefore, starting in June, we will put Children's Church on hold and it will resume August 14. We will keep the nursery going through all the weeks and expand the ages of the nursery to include children through the age of 6. This will allow those younger school age children the opportunity to go to the nursery if needed. In addition we will make sure the "activity bags" are filled with more age-appropriate, exciting things for the kids that stay in the service if they wish to use those.

Toward the end of July we will start having some church-wide things that will be including the older children in the service.

These things tentatively are:
VBS Program Sunday - July 17
Worship in the Park - July 24
Backpack Sunday - August 7

VBS Program

Our VBS theme is Food Truck Party. The overarching theme is Matthew 6:11 "Give Us this Day Our Daily Bread."

The daily themes are based on the prayer: God is Great. God is Good. Let us thank God for our food. By God's Hands We All Are Fed! Give Us, Lord, Our Daily Bread! It is a 5 day program that we will be scaling down to 3 days.

July 12, 13, 14 - Note this is Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday which is slightly different than last year. The times are 6pm-8pm. The program, then, will be July 17.

In addition we are also having a PreK class which will include 4 and 5 year olds but that class will be open only to kids from our church. The older kids can be from either our church or from in the community.

Peace with Justice Sunday—June 12th

Did you know Peace with Justice Sunday offerings support grants for social justice programs and education?

A portion of the funds received on Peace with Justice Sunday support the work of The General Board of Church and Society (GBCS). Giving allows the agency to disperse funds in the form of grants to ministries that are doing the important peace with justice work in many places around the world. They award three different grants available to United Methodist congregations and organizations. The grants support Ethnic/Minority Local Church ministries, and programs related to the denomination's Special Sundays for Human Relations Day and Peace with Justice. GBCS works to connect with conferences, agencies and other networks to educate, equip and mobilize actions in support of identified Economic, Health, and Gender Justice priorities.

ABOUT PEACE WITH JUSTICE SUNDAY (PWJS)

Peace with Justice is a faithful expression of shalom in the Bible. It calls the church to strengthen its capacity to advocate publicly in communities and nations throughout the world. It aims to make shalom visible and active in people's lives and communities by setting people free from bondage. We will celebrate Peace with Justice as witnesses to God's demand for a faithful, just, disarmed and secure world. Generally, Peace with Justice Sunday is celebrated on the second Sunday after Pentecost and a special offering is collected. The offering is administered by the General Board of Church and Society and benefits peace with justice ministries in the Annual Conferences and around the world.
