

Christine A. Horne, founder of The Masters Wealth Group, LLC., provides wealth growth services that consistently help individuals rethink their wealth growth strategy and maximize their permanent financial security—all while meeting their current financial needs and budget requirements.

Her client-focused goals of individual wealth growth have remained consistent and are fittingly described by the company slogan: Financial Services for the Seasons of Your Life. She loves to challenge the norm and establish new dynamics – bringing extreme profitability and wealth growth to individuals and their investment goals.

Christine has lived in North Texas for the last 20 years, and services her individual client base throughout the region. Prior to founding Masters Wealth Group, she created a strong history of success in Corporations, including assisting in the strategic growth of one company from $440 million to $1 billion in a 24-month window, after which the company was sold. Christine shifted her focus in 2011 to helping individuals achieve their financial dreams, rather than corporations.

Christine has been married to her husband for over 30 years and has one son who resides in Oregon. She spends her leisure time watching anything Notre Dame (go Irish!), outside gardening, playing the piano, teaching Bible study classes, cooking fabulous dinners and entertaining. If you can catch her sitting still for 5 minutes ... well good luck!
