

Position Night Scoring Procedure

The top teams will be playing against each other for position night prizes and tournament ranking.

- If you have a scheduled hole that is highlighted (i.e. your team points are not 0), you are in the running for Team Position prize money. Points are awarded per normal league play, with the highest point total at the end of position night determining prize eligibility.
- Holes for teams not in the Team Position prize money were assigned on a random basis (i.e. the order in which you responded to my attendance request email.)
- If your team does not have a scheduled hole, we will be doing a blind draw to determine starting holes.
 - o When at least one member of your team shows up, come in the bar and pull a number which will represent the hole you will start on and also determines your opponent for the round.
- If you have a scheduled hole, you will not draw a number as your opponent and starting hole has been set.

If you don't draw a number you will not be eligible to win any prizes at the end of the round. Also, there will be no switching opponents for position night or again you will not be eligible to win any prizes.

We feel this will bring a fair competitive aspect to Position Night as the league continues to grow.

On Position Nights and the Year End Tournament each team is responsible for keeping their own score and the score of your opponents.

Every team will turn in a scorecard filled out completely showing their score and their opponents score.

This means we will have two scorecards from each foursome.

Both scorecards must be initialed.

With the size of the league, we don't have time to check the scoring on every card after the round, so we are making some changes on how we handle the Position Night prize payouts.

- To make sure the scoring is correct; we will not award prizes immediately after the Position Night round.
- We will collect the cards, check the addition on every card and make the awards the next time we play.
- This does not mean that you do not add up the scores. Blank score cards, or incomplete score cards will disqualify both teams in the foursome from prize money.
- We will compare the cards and verify the accuracy of the scores for both teams.
- The initials on the cards imply that you have already done this before the cards are turned in.
- If this is done properly all scoring issues will be resolved before the cards are turned in and the scores will match.

When turning in your card, please check in at the scorer's table and give your team number. Do not just leave your card on the table without giving the scorer your team number.

We will be addressing ties as was done in the past. For both Position Nights and for the Tournament we will be matching score cards to determine the winner.

- For all ties, we will compare the team's total score on the par five holes, numbers 5 and 12.
- If we still have a tie we will compare the scores on the par 4 holes 6 and 13 and again on the par 3 holes 7 and 16.
- If there is still a tie we will pick holes at random until we have a winner.

It is your responsibility to verify your score with your opponents after the match, make sure the addition is correct; the card is filled out completely and turned in.

We are still having cards turned in during regular league play that are not completely filled out. Moving forward these cards will not be used and therefore you forfeit any points won for that round.

On position nights only, for computation of lowest net score prizes, we will (as in the past) add one stroke for the front 9 (par 35) as the back 9 is par 36. This keeps things fair for everyone.

The year-end tournament is 18 holes, so this is not necessary as all players play 18.

We are always in the clubhouse to answer questions after the round.
