

DEATH WITH JESUS

So death you've come to claim me
Yet now I face thee unafraid
As I embrace this final ending
I'm not angry or dismayed

Maybe He wrote my life to be different
But through it all the author was me
He gave me choices and I made them
The best came when I let Him choose me

That's when my life came to it's fullest
For He was always by my side
And now that He's come to take me home
I feel no need to cry

Looking back I want to thank Him
For being there when my eyes would not see
He loved me, even in my selfishness
He forgave a stubborn sinner like me

So as my Lord and I make my last journey
My soul to Him I humbly release
From the Spirit I will reap life in eternity
Denying death, to find an everlasting peace

Mary L. Faller
8 Sept. 21, 1990