

"Time Heals"

Lord there's an aura of sorrow around me
Please help me shake this terrible pain
There's a feeling of loneliness, leaving me empty
Life without him will never be the same

I can hear the noise in the background
They are the people that came to console
As I sit in the dark of that silent sound
I'm a half when I should be a whole

Lord please help me stop this crying
Clear these eyes that are misty with tears
Inside I just feel like dying
Help me let go for I loved him for so many years

Now He's my wonderful memory
I close my eyes and I can still have him near
Lord let time heal this wound for me
But only You know how I wish he was here
