Message from the Acting Headteacher

Asalaam Alaikum parents and carers

It has been a bright and busy week and the children really enjoyed meeting their new class teachers on Transition Day, as well as carrying out various engaging and fun activities.

Your children's End of Year reports will be accessible today at 4pm: Years 1 and 2 via Google Classroom and EYFS through email by the Office. I have also attached additional information about pupil reports which I hope you will find useful. Please do not hesitate to talk about your child's learning during the celebration of learning sessions next week on Wednesday 19th and Thursday 20th July from 3.00-3.30pm.

If you haven't already, please take some time to complete a parent survey (extended till 17th July) using the link below; this will help us to build on our strengths and make further improvements, whereby our children will continue to thrive. <https://forms.gle/MeXYZYejYtjHedk3Z>

Wishing you all a blessed weekend,

Message from the Faith Advisor

This week, in our assembly, we revisited verse 39 from Surah An-Najm, Chapter 53, which says:

وَأَنْ لَّيْسَ لِلْإِنْسَانِ إِلَّا مَا سَعَى

"Nothing belongs to man except what he strives for."

The verse teaches us that man will reap the fruits of his efforts so we should strive and make effort towards that we want to achieve. In our assembly the children and adults reflected on this verse and saw how the Prophet Muhammad lived and taught this teaching of the Quran. In the story, the Prophet Muhammad not only showed excellence but also helped others develop the value of excellence. We reflected on how we can show excellence ourselves but also teach excellence to others by sharing our skills with others.

May Allah, guide us all to continue build our excellence as a family, by applying the teachings of this inspiring verse from the Holy Quran.

Mrs Jessa
