PLANT, PROMOTE, PROTECT

The Season

Spring 2023 Plantings

In March, ReLeaf planted 18 trees across two sites within the Old Fort neighborhood as part of our partnership with the Washington Housing Authority (WHA) funded by a $4,500 grant from the North Carolina Urban Forest Council (NCUFC) through their Legacy Tree Fund grant program. ReLeaf members and volunteers planted 6 jane magnolias and 6 red cedars along Respass St. near 9th St. and 2 jane magnolias and 4 serviceberries across the street in the Old Fort area near the WHA office on 9th Street. Local residents gave us a lot of support, including Ms. Conda Lane, who helped us dig and plant along Respass St. We look forward to working with WHA on further plantings in the future.

To date ReLeaf Washington has planted 179 trees across 19 sites in Washington and its vicinity, toward its goal to plant 1,000 trees by 2030.

At our annual public meeting we met briefly and then set to work on mulching, weeding, and removing straps and metal takes from trees at various locations in town.

ReLeaf Makes Donation to Washington Montessori's Erdkinder Club

The Members of the Erdkinder Club pose with ReLeaf Board Member's Meredith Loughlin, Ben Hudson, Heather Thienpont and Dick Leach

ReLeaf was honored to grant $250 for the Washington Montessori Erdkinder Club whose mission is to beautify and grow trees around the school's campus. This grant money will be used to purchase a sturdy storage bench that will double as storage for their tools and supplies as well as provide a place to rest during their working times. Congratulations to this newly formed organization!
