Notice: Microsoft Service Disruption

Chief Pleas is currently experiencing technical difficulties as a result of the ongoing global Microsoft service outage.

This disruption is affecting access to some of our systems and services, including email and other administrative functions. We are continuing to operate as far as possible while the disruption remains ongoing.

Our public opening hours remain unchanged, as published on the Chief Pleas website, although some services may be temporarily affected.

We apologise for any inconvenience caused and thank you for your patience and understanding while services are restored.
