Sark to hold contested General Election on 25th November 2026

Sark will go to the polls on Wednesday 25th November 2026 for a contested General Election, following a strong response from candidates during the nomination period.

At the close of nominations on 13th November, 16 candidates had been formally nominated for election to Chief Pleas with 10 seats available.

The Returning Officer for Sark, Paul Armorgie, said:
"I am delighted to see that democracy is in good health on Sark. I would like to thank every candidate for putting themselves forward to serve our community. Standing for election takes commitment, and I am grateful to all those who have come forward."

This will also be the first General Election in which proxy voting is available. It is the first fundamental change to Sark's electoral process since the island's move from feudalism to democracy in 2008, and it is intended to make it easier for islanders to take part in the vote.
