

SARK SCHOOL

Cover Teacher Needed from September 2022

An exciting opportunity has arisen in Sark School during an equally exciting time in its development. We are looking for a cover teacher to come in and be a part of the team on a part-time/flexible basis. The role is to provide cover to the incoming Head of School during her non-contact time for a set number of hours every week and to be available to provide cover when staff are away from school for professional development and/or sickness.

What we will offer

- A competitive hourly rate of pay for a set number of hours per week
- A competitive daily rate for those days when PD/sickness cover will be required
- A new and energetic team to be a valuable and valued part of
- Access to in-house professional development opportunities when they arise
- Enthusiastic, polite and impeccably behaved children
- A school with fantastic facilities and room in which to organise creative learning opportunities for our children
- Small class sizes with no distance marking at the end of the day!
- An endless supply of tea, biscuits and coffee (and occasionally cake)

The successful candidate will:

- Have QTS or an equivalent qualification from another country
- Have experience of teaching children at a range of different ages
- Be creative and have a passion for planning engaging lessons
- Be a fluent speaker of English
- Be willing to work as part of a team

If you would like more information about this role or to apply for the post, please contact the Acting Head of School, Nick Wolfe, on 01481832601 (please leave a message and a contact number on the answer phone and we'll get back to you asap) or email head@sarkschool.co.uk or admin@sarkschool.co.uk to arrange a time to talk. If you'd like to come and visit the school before applying, then please feel free to make arrangements for this too.
