SPECIAL CONSTABLES WANTED

Serve your community

Help keep Sark safe.

Applications are open for Sark residents to join the Island's Team of Special Constables.

Special Constables work alongside the full-time Constable(s), providing support during emergencies, investigations and other periods of increased demand. While the role is much less demanding than that of a full-time Constable, it is an important position and makes a crucial contribution our community.

Applications are welcomed from all Sark residents. We would be particularly pleased to hear from any women interested in serving as a Special Constable.

Working arrangements and duties. The proposed rota is roughly one week on call followed by four weeks off, subject to staffing. Duties may include responding to incidents, assisting with investigations and helping during emergencies and events.

Pay, training and support. Special Constables will receive payment for being on call together with an additional hourly rate when called out. Paid training will be provided, along with equipment, guidance and ongoing support from the full-time Constable(s) and Committee Office. No previous policing experience is required.

How to apply. To apply or request a full description of the post and its duties, please email ali.bateson@sarkgov.co.uk.

Conditions of appointment. Appointments are subject to satisfactory vetting and references. Successful applicants will be required to complete paid training and meet the standards of the role.
