President's Welcome Back Message

Dear Members of FAPEL,

Welcome back to the new academic year 2022-2023. I hope that you are enjoying a smooth and engaging fall semester, thus far. I am excited that I will be able to see you on October 3rd and host our first in-person meeting since the start of COVID-19 two years ago! This upcoming meeting will be of special importance for a couple of reasons. First, having been forced to only connect through virtual options, highlights the precious value of being able to meet with all of you, dear colleagues, in person. Second, given the urgent and challenging issues that are facing educators and professors of educational leadership at the local and national levels (e.g.: faculty members academic freedom and autonomy regarding research, scholarship, pedagogy, and service), convening as a professional community seems necessary. FAPEL has always tried to make a positive difference to the future of education in Florida, through supporting educational leaders. This mission has never been more relevant or urgent. Accordingly, I sincerely hope that you are planning to join our fall meeting and are driven to inform the direction of educational leadership preparation and support in our state.

We are grateful to the University of Central Florida (UCF) for graciously hosting our meeting on UCF campus, and for sponsoring important meeting activities. In this Welcome Back Issue of the FAPEL Newsletter, you will find more information on the upcoming Fall 2022 Conference (Registration is open!). The conference agenda will allow for dialogue and discussions with colleagues and state level leaders regarding topics of concern and interest; sharing of resources and best practices in teaching and learning, research, service, and caring for self and others; review of and reflection on FAPEL processes, practices, vision, and values; and opportunities for informal socialization, networking and connecting. Until I see you in Orlando on October 3rd, please know, that FAPEL Board of Directors is working vigilantly to support your professional needs and organize a meaningful meeting for all of you. Please don't hesitate to contact me with any questions, concerns, or suggestions at barakatm@fau.edu
