

Roger O'Keefe, M.Ed.

Roger's background is in public speaking, both as a keynote speaker in education, and as a speaker to business leaders in private industry. He has appeared on numerous TV and Radio Shows. A long time North San Diego County resident, a California credentialed teacher, K-12 & Adult, he is a published writer and photographer in traditional print. Roger has published an education book, and over fifty articles and photographs in traditional print. He has also published numerous novels, articles, and short stories online, and hosts two podcasts. Roger is currently writing his eighth novel, his prior novels (sixth and seventh) have been adapted to the movie screen. He is the son of two excellent writers, and grew up in an artist colony surrounded by talented writers in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico. Semi-retired, he resides in San Diego County, California where he enjoys golf, flyfishing, basketball, and skiing.