Car Guy Garage

Welcome Car Guy Garage, 2017 Touch of England and NJTA supporter.

A couple of questions for your consideration. When you think of a house, what comes to mind as being essential criteria? Curb appeal, resale value, an eat in kitchen, extra bathrooms, large closets, or the garage? When you're invited to a picnic in the neighborhood, do you check out the garage on the way to the back yard? It's Saturday afternoon, what are you most likely to have in your hand: a wrench, a mouse, a garden trowel, the remote, or a shopping list? And, aside from sharing the company of your wonderful wife and kid(s) or your significant other - let's say they went out shopping and left you to your own devices - where would you choose to hang out?

If the answer to any of those questions places you in or around a garage, and in close proximity to an automobile, then Car Guy Garage is the dot com for you. And be forewarned if you've grown up and reached maturity because your father's garage is a thing of the past!

Car Guy Garage is the brain child of brothers Jim and Tim Frey. That was over ten years ago. Today, together with their mother Lori and a small dedicated staff, they've taken a garage born idea and made it into a successful business. Want to make that standard builder's garage into another room in your house? Your room, for your use, the way you want it? Then check out Car Guy Garage on line. They carry equipment from storage and shop cabinets to tool boxes to lighting to heaters to accessories and decor, all for the sole purpose of outfitting your workshop. Additional items are shown on the website.

One of my favorite emails comes from Car Guy Garage, it contains reader photos of their garages. It's real, it's unique and it's entertaining. And informative too in terms of what can be done within an allotted amount of space. I.e. - tiny little European garages. You can subscribe to that email on their website. The top 200 garage photos are available for viewing on their website. With over 4,000 additional photographs available in the Gallery. Check it out, have some fun, get some ideas. Send them a photo of your garage and you could receive a free t-shirt.

Car Guy Garage invites you to contact them with your "dimensions and dreams". They'll create a 3D model of your garage, for free, and help you to put your dreams on paper. If you're spending time in the garage and it's not yet the place you want it to be, Car Guy Garage can help you change that.
