

Terms & Conditions

By purchasing this product, you accept the following terms. If you choose to purchase and install the Buddyrider pet seat, you do so at your own risk. Cycling can be inherently dangerous especially when carrying passengers or cargo of any kind. You must wear protective gear at all times (helmet and gloves etc.) You indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the owners, directors, employees, and or any other representatives of CDC Creations Inc. and/or Buddyrider Inc. from damage caused or injury sustained through the use of the Buddyrider pet seat. Furthermore you assume all risks associated with the fitting and use of the Buddyrider pet seat. Each time prior to using the Buddyrider Pet Seat you must check all components of the seat, and ensure the seat is secure to the bicycle and no parts are cracked, loose, missing, or broken. Due to the size and weight associated with transporting a pet on a bicycle you may be required to make quick corrective action when the pet moves its weight. Extreme care must be taken at all times. Care must be taken when placing your pet into the seat, and also when removing them. This should be done in a safe place and away from distractions such as other pets. Initial rides should be brief, over smooth ground and in a safe location. You must never leave a pet unattended in this seat. Due to the higher center of gravity, a bicycle may fall over if parked on its stand or without proper support. You must not allow your pet to become a distraction when riding. You must keep your focus on the safe operation of your bicycle, the rules of the road, the environment around you and other cyclists, pedestrians and vehicular traffic. Return Policy On the rare occasion that the Buddyrider pet seat for some reason does not fit your bicycle, simply return it within 10 days for a full refund. The returned product must be unused and undamaged, sent prepaid via a traceable and insurable method to.
