MEETINGS & EVENTS
2017

It was over 35 years ago that our family first came down to the Deer Park and we've been coming down ever since. So this lovely hotel to us is not just a hotel, it's a love, it's something that we treasure, we have had so many happy times here.

That's why it's been so great over the last few years to see, under Mark Godfrey, how the Deer Park has progressed amazingly – wonderful new Orangery, first tree house in Devon, the Motor house, the Old Squash Court, the beautiful walled garden... I could go on, but perhaps even more important than all of that, it's been great to see how the staff here have blossomed and give such wonderful service to all the guests. The food ain't bad either!

As MGM has written in its entrance to its Hollywood Studios...
"Do it big! Do it right! Give it class!" I think that's all here at the Deer Park.

I would love to share it with you.

All the very best.

Nigel Wray - Owner
Chairman of Saracens Rugby Club

A BRIEF HISTORY...

One of the last great Devonshire Country Houses, the Deer Park Country House has seen many changes over its 300 year history.

Originally a squire's mansion dating back to 1721, the Georgian house was converted into a Hotel by its current owner, Nigel Wray in 1977.

In late 2016 the multi million pound re development of the country house was completed with the addition of a beautiful Orangery, luxury thatched tree house, Motor House and executive detached house.

The Orangery now provides wonderful architectural space and flexible seating for up to 200 guests. The luxury thatched tree house offers a completely different experience to that of the main house. Complete with underfloor heating, cosy real flame wood burner and clad in natural cedar.

The Motor house conference suite contains the most up to date audio visual facilities currently available and finally the executive house ("Old Squash Court") provides seriously high end flexible accommodation for the ultimate 24 hour delegate.

The Deer Park is now considered one of the most unique and exclusive venues in the South West of England, situated on one of Devon's most breath taking estates.

With direct access onto our Italian gardens and our delightful alfresco wood burning oven area, it is the perfect partner for summer staff parties and or larger conferences.
