Here are the web links from WBGU-PBS that I promised:

- BGSU Brain Game <https://www.wbgu.org/bgsu-brain-game/>
BGSU Brain Game is an academic quiz show for local high school teams. If your high school is interested in taking part in the 2024-25 season, please email Tom Cummings, WBGU-PBS assistant general manager at ctom@bgsu.edu
- Financial Literacy and Eclipse Education Videos: <https://www.wbgu.org/educationalvideos/> or <https://www.youtube.com/@WBGUPBS>
- The Journal: <https://www.wbgu.org/the-journal/>
The Journal is WBGU-PBS' flagship public affairs show. The Journal covers a wide range of important topics such as legislative, education, health and economic issues affecting our region. Steve Kendall, the voice of WBGU-PBS, serves as The Journal's dedicated host. If you have an idea for a Journal topic or if you would like to appear on the Journal to talk about a local program, issue or initiative, please contact WBGU at wbgufeedback@bgsu.edu
- PBS LearningMedia: <https://wbgu.pbslearningmedia.org/>
This FREE teacher resource from WBGU-PBS and PBS includes nearly 30,000 curriculum-aligned videos, interactives and lesson plans appropriate for PreK-12 students.
- Scenic Stops & Stories: <https://www.wbgu.org/scenicstops/>
Scenic Stops & Stories is a travel program that highlights interesting local destinations and stories. If you have an idea for a Scenic Stops & Stories topic, please contact WBGU at wbgufeedback@bgsu.edu
- Subscribe to WBGU-PBS eNewsletter here for the latest news and updates from WBGU-PBS.
