Do You Really Know the ONE That Looks for You?

No matter how many times I read this powerful story and parable that Jesus tells us today, I cannot help but get emotional at the line, "and still while a long way off, his father caught sight of him." This means that although the son turned away from the father, and walked away from his true inheritance, the father began to search for him. His truest inheritance and identity was that he was a Beloved Son - not the financial, or the property, the livestock, and fields, but that he was a son of a father who would walk out in search for him every day. If we were to break down sin at the most basic level, it literally means to turn ourselves away from the gaze of God's love. It is when we look for fulfilment and choose other things besides God, and what God desires to give us. Although we look and search for other things in the world, the gaze of the father never comes off us. He never ceases from looking upon us. I would encourage you just to sit with that for a moment - the look of God's love never comes off us - no matter how bad our sin is, or how bad we think it is. The Lord is pursuing and searching for us. That is the rescue mission of Jesus, he comes to find and save us.

Unfortunately, in our lives we have all been the victim of misinformation and false tales about God the Father - sometimes by our loved ones, and sometimes by Church leaders. There have been seasons in our Church's history where God the Father has been presented as an angry and condemning God. The Lord wants our full heart and attention, because He knows what is best for us, and when we live in Him and look with His lens, our lives are better. So often our focus is short sighted and on this world, not the world to come. We have at times thought of God as this distant entity that lives way "up there" and remains disconnected and uncaring. But it is Jesus who becomes flesh and dwells among us who fully reveals who the Father is - "if you have seen me, you have seen the Father" (John 14.9). Jesus humbles himself and he shows us the way to live in order to have the greatest joy. To be God-centered and not self-centered, to serve others. We can see in the story of the prodigal son that the son only wanted to serve himself. To take care of his needs. But Jesus shows us that we are called to be offerings, and to offer ourselves to others.

But that can be hard, because things like pride, and feeling that we always have to be right, hold us back from God and cause division in relationships. That's why on the spiritual journey humility is the key. To be humble is to recognize that we are not perfect, that we are not the source of all knowledge, and that we are in need to offer our lives and to look with a lens of mercy on ourselves and others. We can be pretty harsh on ourselves, and then we project that image as if God looks at us and others in the same way. The Gospel today dismisses that understanding of a condemning God and reinforces a God that is merciful. We often begin with "how could I have been so silly?" "How could I have done that same sin again?" "What do I have to do to stop falling into that same pit, or habit, or destructive pattern?" We always put the focus on ourselves, but God desires for us to look into his eyes, to focus on him, his strength, and his grace.

Our journey brings forth many lessons that God desires for us to learn, but also to pass on to others who struggle with the same difficulties. I believe that God sometimes lets us struggle for a time even with uncomfortable or embarrassing sins - before he gives us the grace to overcome them. These pet sins keep us in a posture of humility, and do not allow us to have the arrogance to say that we did something to overcome them. The breaking of the chains of sin is not about doing a spiritual workout, such as three sets of ten genuflections, or a rosary, or lighting a candle - it is simply approaching the cross. Just as Jesus says, "into your hands Father - I commend everything - I entrust everything - I hand all over to you!"

It is at the moment of His greatest weakness that Jesus shows himself to be the strongest. We know that the Heavenly Father weeps as his Son suffers, and he does the same when we all suffer as well. The father in the Gospel desired for his son to return and to claim his inheritance that was never lost - or sold - or traded. Even though the son forgot who he was, the father never did. It is the same for you and me. We too may have been battling and struggling with difficulties and past sins for weeks, months or even years, but the Lord desires for us to return home - to Him, to His love, and mercy.

And so, I encourage you and your loved ones to take that time in these next few weeks to prepare for Holy Week and if necessary to come celebrate the Sacrament of Reconciliation, to experience the embrace of God's mercy and love in the confessional. It is there that we get to encounter and know the ONE who looks for us.

Thank you for your presence and generosity,

Peace,

Grade Five

The students in Mrs. Frank's Fifth Grade Science Class learned about the phases of the moon using Oreo cookies. Science is always fun and sometimes even delicious! Of course, students were able to eat the cookies when they were done.

Grade Three

Understanding graphs and using a spreadsheet can be difficult, but once third graders understand the concepts, creativity and time-saving methods of formulas are just around the corner. Students were given an assortment of M&M's to sort, collect and enter data, ending with creating a pie chart of their findings. Who doesn't love M&M's?!

Parish Social Ministry

Ukraine Conflict Emergency Relief

As the first signs of crisis emerge in Ukraine, Catholic Relief Services is helping Caritas to respond to humanitarian needs across the country. Inspired by Gospel values and Catholic Social Teachings, Caritas Internationalis is a confederation of 162 Catholic relief organizations that responds to disasters, promotes human development, and advocates on the causes of poverty and conflict. Right now, Catholic Relief Services and Caritas are responding to urgent needs in Ukraine including evacuation, food, and safe shelter. If you would like to help with these efforts, please visit www.support.crs.org/ukraine or call 1-877-HELP-CRS.

Easter Baskets for Parish Families in Need

This will be our last week collecting Easter baskets for families in need, so that we may begin our distribution process. If you are interested in preparing a simple Easter basket for a family or a small basket for a child, please return it to our office by Friday, April 1st. Grocery store gift cards will also be distributed to help a family with their purchase of food for Easter dinner and beyond.

For any questions, please feel free to call our office at 679-8532.

Thank You Girl Scout Troop 3606!

The 3rd Grade Girl Scouts of Seaford Manor and St. William School recently donated 36 boxes of Girl Scout Cookies to our food pantry. These cookies are always a welcomed treat for the families we serve in the Seaford community! It is so admirable that these Scouts are living the Girl Scout Promise to “serve God” and “to help people at all times.” We are so grateful that they chose our ministry to benefit from their kindness!

Cash Assistance through SNAP

Inflation and rising food prices have put undue economic pressure upon many families. NY State has approved additional assistance through the Pandemic Emergency Assistance Fund (PEAF) and is distributing funds through the SNAP (food stamp) program. These emergency allotments are approved and distributed on a month-by-month basis and will continue until the public health emergency is lifted in our nation. These funds may be withdrawn as cash from the SNAP program! Recent distributions included $140 per eligible child for diapers, and $730 per eligible adult in multi-generational households. If you or someone you know is considering applying for SNAP, now is the time to do so! Please call the Social Ministry office for more information at 679-8532.

Donation Spotlight Boy Scout Troop 690

Last weekend Boy Scout Troop 690 conducted their “Scouting for Food” event, and our Parish Food Pantry was honored to be the beneficiary! Each Scout ran a food drive in their neighborhood to gather supplies for those in need. They delivered hundreds of pounds of food to our pantry last Sunday, where they were met by our volunteers and even Fr. Joe! Troop 690 ran this event in order to help alleviate pressure on local families due to the COVID 19 pandemic. We are so grateful for their service to the Parish and the community!
