“Can You Drink the Cup That I Drink?”

Mark 10:38

That question from Jesus to His followers comes right after his discussion on Marriage and Divorce, and the encounter with the rich young man in Mark’s Gospel. Jesus is inviting us into a relationship with Him and the community of the church. In doing so he lays forth some parameters or guidelines to assist us in the journey towards holiness. On paper many of these expectations seem to be achievable, but we know that souls and humans are not made of paper. In our humanity and relationships, we are dealing with real flesh and blood, passion, and the joys and challenges that come with life. We hope for and live for the ideal but live in a fallen world where we experience selfishness, brokenness, and sin. The Church tries to provide an avenue for a couple to live “until death do us part,” or even the fairy tale of “happily ever after” in the Sacrament of Matrimony. Today we will speak into when that does not happen.

Married couples have always experienced problems that threaten their union: jealousy, infidelity, addictions, and conflicts. These issues arise from the impact of sin, both Original and actual. The first sin disrupted the original communion of man and woman. Despite this, God’s plan for marriage persisted. He never failed to provide mercy and healing grace to help couples sustain their marriages. Sadly, some spouses fail to benefit from the Lord’s help and from the many pastoral resources and support offered to them. The Church’s fidelity to Christ’s teaching on marriage and against divorce does not imply insensitivity to the pain of the persons facing these unhappy and at times unbearable situations. When divorce is the only possible recourse, the Church offers her support to those involved and encourages them to remain close to the Lord through frequent reception of the Sacraments, especially the Holy Eucharist. At these moments clarity in explaining truthfully the Church’s teachings related to marriage will dismiss any misconceptions. Remember through Christ and the Church, brokenness can be healed, self-worth can be affirmed, and isolation can be overcome.

Some separated and divorced Catholics believe that their situation and experience puts them outside the Catholic community. This could not be further from the truth. For crystal clarity, please know that divorced Catholics are not excommunicated under church law, and they still maintain their right and responsibility to participate in the life of the Church which they possess by virtue of Baptism. All of us are invited into the participation in the life of the Church in order for us to maintain continued growth in the faith journey.

It is true that Catholics who are divorced and civilly remarried present a unique challenge for the Church’s ministry. In faithfulness to the teaching of Christ and the instructions of canon law, the civil union is invalid. Couples in these situations therefore find themselves in a situation that objectively violates God’s law. They may not receive the Eucharist or exercise other official functions within the Church until their situation is resolved. For some of you reading this, it may be the first time you were made aware of this, but know that divorced and civilly remarried Catholics can and should remain active in many other ways. We enter in deeper by reflecting on the Word of God, attending Mass, participating in apostolic works of charity and justice, cultivating a spirit and practice of penance, and continuing to guide and teach their children in the Catholic faith.

The Church’s diverse response to Catholics who are separated or divorced is always faithful to Christ’s teaching on the indissolubility of marriage and the Church’s vigilance concerning scandal. Our team of the priests and staff, in collaboration with the diocesan offices, have allowed for powerful opportunities of healing and reconciliation assisting in exploring the various options that are available for remedying these experiences. The Gospel message makes evident the truths that sin and suffering will continue to exist, even within marriages of well-intentioned Catholics, and that God’s everlasting love is revealed in the Lord’s unending promise of forgiveness and the hope of a new beginning. Christian hope “affords us joy even under trial,” allowing us to embrace and proclaim that we can drink the cup that Jesus drinks, even enduring through the struggle and affliction.

My hope is to continue the conversation with individuals and families to bring us to a greater place of understanding and when possible, reconciliation and healing. The same power that raised Jesus from the dead desires to transform what is unfinished or broken in our lives. Please come to me or one of the other priests if you have a question or want to discuss more the topic of marriage or even the experience that you or family are currently in to bring greater clarity. My hope next week is to open the conversation on the annulment process, as well as discuss civil unions and other non-sacramental unions – which also affect many of us and our families. Let us pray for each other, our families, and the parish – that the Lord who invites us to drink from the cup of salvation and sacrifice will also strengthen us with wisdom and understanding regarding human love in the Divine Plan.

As always it is we deep gratitude I acknowledge your presence and generosity.

Peace,

Fellowship Tent of Meeting

In Exodus 33:7-11, the intimate prayer of Moses with God is described. A designated place for prayer, a "tent of meeting," was set up outside of the Israelite camp. As Moses would enter this tent, a "column of cloud" would descend upon it, signaling the presence of the Lord, to whom Moses would then speak "face to face, as one man speaks to another." With their intercessor standing before God, the Israelites would then begin to pray "at the entrance of their own tents."

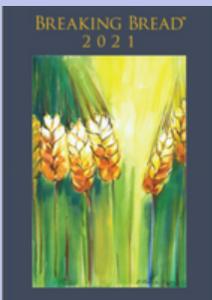

We will begin to extend the opportunity to come together after selected Masses each weekend just as the Israelites did with a Fellowship Meeting Tent. The Fellowship Meeting Tent will take place at two selected Masses each weekend. The selected Masses will be announced in future bulletins and our social media. Each week the tent will feature refreshments.

Fellowship Tent of Meeting Schedule Sunday, October 17 - 9am & 5pm Mass

Light a Prayer Candle

Lighting candles has long been a sacred ritual in all traditions, creating precious moments in our own and other people's lives where we pray for loved ones, friends, and ask for or give support.

Overdue Energy Bill? Help Up to $10k per Family Available!

HEAP is offering a one-time benefit available to their eligible households that have an electric/gas account in arrears. This benefit is called "RAS" (Regular Arrears Supplement) and is available from September 22, 2021 through September 30, 2022 or until funds are exhausted. Applicants must meet HEAP requirements and have a past-due utility bill in active collections or facing termination of service. Apply by phone at 800-342-3009 or in-person at the Social Services office.

Peer Support for Children

There are peer support groups available for children touched by emotional suffering caused by a death, divorce, separation or other significant event-based trauma. Frequently children are better able to bounce back from these events with help. Support groups provide children with an opportunity to meet other children who have shared similar experiences and to have caring, trained adults guide them as they sort through and understand their emotions. For more information please contact the Social Ministry office at 679-8532.

Called to Volunteer?

St. William the Abbot Parish is home to a St. Vincent de Paul Conference that serves 30 families in the local community. This conference is a small group of parishioners that work on a volunteer basis in partnership with the Parish Social Ministry. We offer services such as financial assistance, food distribution, advocacy and spiritual guidance to those in need. We are looking for new volunteers to join our conference and help support the families we serve. Please consider becoming a member to help those in need in your community. For more information, contact the Social Ministry office.

Donor Spotlight

The Parish Social Ministry food pantry received a huge donation from parishioner Aliceanne Guida, and to say we are grateful is an understatement! Aliceanne visits us every week faithfully to donate in memory of her late husband Jim Guida. "Jim was full of good deeds," Aliceanne tells us, "The world would be a better place if there were more people like him. I love doing this in his memory and knowing I am helping people." God bless the Guida family, and all of our donors! Generous parishioners are what allow our food pantry to operate 100% donation based, serving 80 families in the Seaford area.

Remember that Mass is a prayer. How should you act during church to help you focus on prayer?

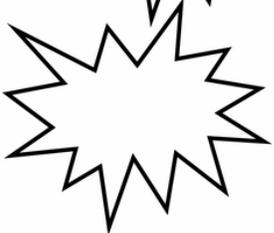

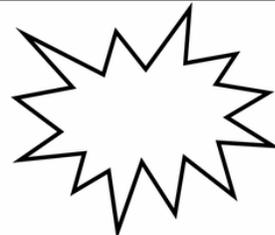

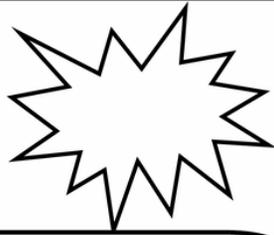

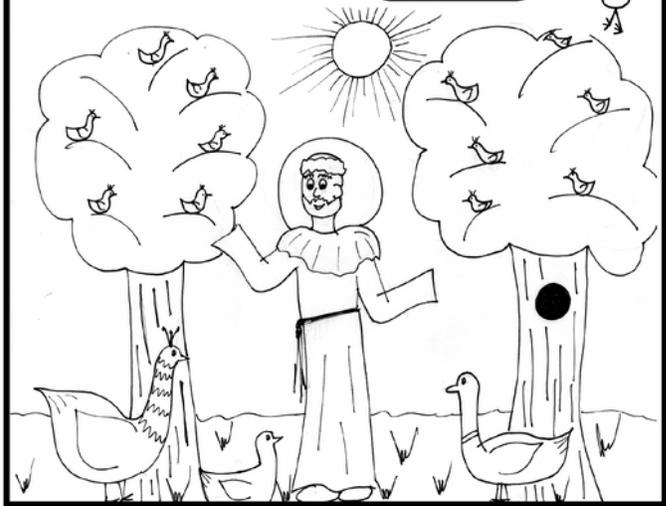

Saint Francis of Assisi

Saint Francis of Assisi was a monk who gave away everything he had. He was very cheerful and helped others to be happy.

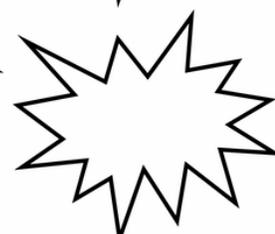

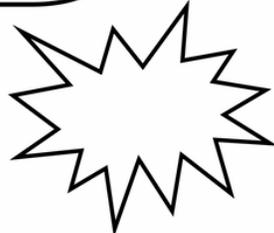

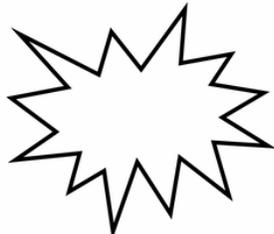

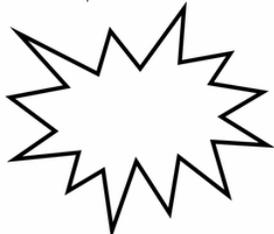

What can you do to make someone happy today?

He was a great preacher—even the birds listened when he talked about God.

Count how many little birds are listening to Saint Francis.

Jesus told his disciples to serve others. Fill each sign with something you can do to serve your friends and family.

Gospel

The disciples, James and John, asked Jesus if they could sit by him in Heaven. He told them that if they want to be great, they should serve others instead of trying to get the best seats in Heaven.
