

Overview: Shock The System is a self contained, four-member band using their own X/M Air rack and split snake for their own in-ear and powered wedge monitor system. Members bring their own mics (including drum mics), stands, cables, direct boxes, and monitors; and will pin their own channels to the X/M Air system. FOH engineer will receive a 16-channel, labeled fan/whip (only 13 channels are used by band) via a 15' cable. The X/M Air rig can be placed to the right or left of the drums at the FOH engineer's request; please advise band pre-set up.

FOH Talk Back: FOH engineer to typically use house wedges. Alternatively can pin mic cable to ch. 12 on top of X/M Air rack.
