

Dr. Jeremy S. Chou, MChD, FRACGP

Dear doctor, I am Dr. Jeremy Chou, I completed my medical training from the ANU Medical School in 2016 before going on to acquire my FRACGP in 2023. I have 4 years of experience in the use of botulinum toxin for both medical and cosmetic indications and have since continued to develop my expertise and interest in this area, especially in the medical use of botulinum toxin for managing pain related to Teeth-Grinding/Jaw-Clenching/Bruxism/TMJ Dysfunction and associated Tension Type Headaches, and for Hyperhidrosis (Palmar & Axillary).

Consultations are currently complimentary and I discuss all alternative treatments including those I do not offer as part of my holistic approach to empowering patients to make an informed choice on their ideal treatment option. I will always insist they maintain any non-injectable management options with their regular GP as per best practice and as I do not consult in General Practice in Canberra being based in QLD now.
